Curtis Parkinson
solicitors

The Curtis Parkinson team, based in Nottingham, can assist in all aspects of medical negligence and claiming compensation.

‘Trust me I’m a doctor’

... but what happens when that trust is misplaced and a mistake happen?

Rather like actions taken for professional negligence against accountants, surveyors or solicitors, if you or a loved one has suffered because of an incorrect medical diagnosis or a botched surgical procedure at the hands of a doctor or other healthcare professional, you may wish to consider a claim for compensation.

How we can help

This is often a distressing time for those involved especially if they have been left with pain or discomfort.

Our team is able to offer sensitive advice and guidance at this time which will lead to a full investigation on your behalf to ensure an appropriate level of compensation is received for the pain, suffering and loss of amenity caused.

We guarantee to handle your enquiry with sensitivity and understanding. Although we are legally driven, it's people we focus on.

Contact us now for an initial discussion of your circumstances.

Everything was explained in a comprehensible manner.
